About the Department of Education in Languages

Language is important because it is alive and dynamic. One can say it is like a river assimilating everything that comes to it in its course of flow.

Department of Education in Languages established in 2005 works for the promotion of language education at different stages of school education. The department provides academic support to learners and teachers by providing text books, supplementary materials, packages for the professional development of the teachers.

As per the mandate of NCERT, we take up Research Development Training and extension programmes to augment the initiative of providing quality education to learners.

Literature in its varied shades has been the backbone of language curriculum. The focus remains on reflection and creativity as the core of learning. This transforms the process of learning and assessment into unbiased and inclusive paradigm of education.

We have taken the call of introducing technology in teaching learning initiatives. The textbooks and supplementary readers from class 1 to xii have been provided with QR codes so that learners can access selected and relevant material for their learning. Our faculty members interact with learners, teachers and viewers on live-programme.

The department always responds to the queries and interacts with states and UTs on academic issues.
