About the Department of Education in Languages

Department of Education in Languages NIE, NCERT New Delhi had been established in 2005 in the council. Language as is rightly said is the hub of learning across all areas of education. We are aware of the decline in academic achievements of children in schools; and many research based findings draw our attention to impoverished language abilities of the children. However there are many factors inside and outside the boundaries of our schools which have to be countered again at many levels—social, political, economic etc. but the most significant intervention will be giving human face to the entire system. The role of our assessment processes will play a significant role here.

Our department endeavours, through its Research Development Training and Extension programmes to capture the holistic view of the issues. The pedagogic inputs are meant to broaden the understanding language and how children learn.

We do not fail to respond to new advancements in technology. Department develops e-content and online courses to facilitate teachers and learners in their independent learning. In the forthcoming session we have proposed to develop reading materials in Hindi, English, Urdu and Sanskrit for enabling the learners to read and reflect. The Department extends academic support to UTs and Institutes, NGOs working in the area of Language Education.
