

RESUME: PROF INDRANI BHADURI

Dr Indrani Bhaduri is Professor and Head, Educational Survey Division at National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT), New Delhi. She joined NCERT as Associate Professor in June 2002, prior to which, she taught Education to graduate and postgraduate classes under Pune University. She supervised several PhD scholars as guide in various Universities. She is a Post Graduate (MSc) in Chemistry from Delhi University and has acquired her Master in Education (MEd) with specialization in educational statistics and experimental psychology followed by PhD in Education from Pune University. She is trained in 'National Assessment Test Designs and Psychometric Methods' at Educational Testing Service (ETS), Princeton, NJ, USA; and 'Large Scale Educational Survey: Analysis and Reporting' at Australian Council for Educational Research (ACER), Melbourne, Australia. Her area of specialization is Educational Assessment and Psychometrics, Test Designing and Analysis and Reporting of Large-Scale Achievement Survey and School Based Assessment to improve the Learning Outcomes. She has been working in Educational Assessment and allied disciplines for 27 years. Her experience at NCERT includes addressing issues and activities pertaining to planning, conduct, management, output, and dissemination of country-wide large-scale studies/surveys for school education. She is associated with active policy level engagements with state governments and other agencies in school education and large-scale assessment surveys under Samagra Siksha. She provides academic support in conducting National and State level training programmes for various state and district level educational administrators and other functionaries. Dr Bhaduri has presented papers in National and International seminars/conferences. She has worked as resource person in workshops and training programmes and delivered lectures in different universities/ academic institutes. Presently, she is also Head, National Achievement Survey Cell, at NCERT and is involved in coordinating the implementation of National Achievement Surveys (NAS) 2021, for Classes III, V, VIII, and X for Ministry of Education, Govt of India.